

ABOUT US

Erie 1 Board of Cooperative Educational Services (BOCES) collaborates with 19 local school districts to serve students and promote equity among our districts regardless of enrollment, income, or size. One of 37 BOCES in New York State, we continuously look to the future to develop and evolve programs that align with the needs of students, school districts and communities.

Working for You

Through collective purchasing and sharing services among districts, Erie 1 BOCES helps your district reduce costs and meet financial goals.

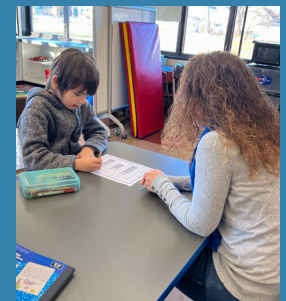

Just like your local school district, Erie 1 BOCES is governed by a board of education. The board is comprised of members from your school communities and is responsible for curricular, financial and policy decisions.

Erie 1 BOCES' district superintendent serves our region as the representative of the commissioner of education. This role facilitates communications between the New York State Education Department (NYSED) and local districts, as well as other public and private agencies.
