ADM: DIVERSITY, EQUITY, & INCLUSION

ADM-22-13 - Supporting Diversity, Equity & Inclusion in WNY Schools-
A Consortium for Leaders of DEI in Schools, 2022-23

Program: Instructional Leadership

Audience: Those charged with leading diversity, equity, inclusion-based initiatives in schools.

Dates: 9/28/2022 to 5/17/2023

Time: 9:00am- 2:30pm

In May of 2021 the Board of Regents released their policy on diversity, equity, and inclusion in schools across New York State.

The Board expects that all school districts will develop similar policies that advance diversity, equity, and inclusion; and that such policies will be implemented with fidelity and urgency.

This Consortium was created to provide support to leaders through the various stages in the planning process, including the designing and implementation of equity-based initiatives.

Much of this work requires self-reflection and awareness as school leaders, as to how our unconscious biases can impact and influence the fidelity and progress of this work.

This forum will provide a safe forum for school leaders to dig deep, be vulnerable, have honest (potentially uncomfortable) discussions with fellow colleagues from surrounding school districts.

Increasingly, other data is being used to inform decisions from an administrator level. Learn the importance of survey structure, look at compounding issues of inequity throughout the K-12 system, and explore other sources of data that can add value to your decisions.

IRT 1098- Motor Matters! Workshop - Evidence-Based Interventions for Children & Youth on The Autism Spectrum

Audience: OTs, OTAs, PTs, PTAs &

Educators working on motor skills of students on the autism spectrum

Dates: 11/2/2022

Time: 8:00am- 3:30pm

Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) is a whole-body condition!

While sensory challenges have long been recognized, current research sheds light to the presence and impact of fine and gross motor difficulties in children and youth on the autism spectrum. OT and PT practitioners can make a difference!

In this interactive course, you will learn the brain, movement, and motor learning differences in individuals on the autism spectrum.

Karen will walk you through conducting assessments the right way to yield the child's motor challenges.

You will learn to provide evidence-informed interventions to promote motivation, motor skills & participation.

Case studies of children (from those requiring minimal, to those requiring substantial support) will highlight the application of these concepts.

Finally, you will hear the dual perspective of a therapist and parent as it relates to experience with motor skills acquisition, inclusion, and participation, as well as the selection of goals and intervention strategies.

As a parent of a son on the autism spectrum, Karen is acutely aware of the challenges families face in dealing with chronic stress, and how collaboration with medical and educational teams can be very rewarding, though, at times, frustrating.

SPECIAL TRAINING: KAGAN COOPERATIVE

Kagan Cooperative Learning Workshops

When students are engaged, they pay attention, they are motivated, they learn more, and the learning sticks.

Traditional classroom teaching captures the minds and attention of some students, but not all. With traditional instruction, there is always a subset of students who fall through the cracks.

Kagan Structures require every student to participate frequently and approximately equally. Kagan Structures close the achievement gap by creating dramatic gains for struggling students.

However, the gains are not bought at the expense of high achievers; they too are engaged in a richer, more interactive learning environment.

Engagement is why low-performing and minority students who use Kagan Structures outperform their school and district peers who do not.

Engagement is why students report that they like school more, their teachers more, the academic content more and feel better about themselves, and they are also less disruptive. Engagement is the reason why principals of failing schools can turn schools around, quickly.

Participants will learn how to use Kagan Structures to increase achievement, improve ethnic relations, enhance self-esteem, create a more harmonious classroom climate, reduce discipline problems, and develop student's social skills and character virtues.

Pump up the fun, friendships, and liking for learning and each other with Class building and Teambuilding.

-Experience why group work simply doesn't work for everyone, and why Kagan Structures do

-Save valuable time and energy with easy-to-use structures that make lesson planning a snap

-Keep students on task and effectively manage disruptions with engaging structures

- Master the different types of pairs and teams, how to form them, and when to use them

- Provide students the will to work together and the skills to do so successfully

- Take away hot management tips that will make managing your cooperative class a snap

- Fully understand and implement basic principles that spell success for your students

- Create an environment where all students are accountable for complete engagement, every day
