Each local district’s Committee on Special Education (CSE) determines a student’s eligibility to attend summer programs. Students who would experience significant regression over the summer from not being enrolled in an educational program are eligible to participate in this instructional 30-day program.

Program Highlights

- Thirty-day instructional program
- Six consecutive weeks
- Related services included in the instructional school day
- Implementation of student’s IEP goals
- Student progress reported at end of program
- Field trips and school-wide events
- Work study opportunities

Students

- Ages 5-21

Program Goal

- Ward off significant regression
