Hamburg Senior Cooks Up Success in Culinary Arts Program

Hamburg Central School District senior Will Maclin has found that a combination of enthusiasm and dedication is a recipe for success while studying in the Culinary Arts program at the Potter Career and Technical Education (CTE) Center.

“This program has given me an advantage by teaching me basic culinary skills so I can transition into more complex things in college,” Will said.

Instructor Lauren Sikora said she was impressed by Will’s commitment to his work.

“Will comes to class enthusiastic and ready to work each day,” Sikora said. “He is passionate about culinary.”

Will said he joined the Culinary Arts program to pursue his love for cooking, and the program has given him a strong foundation for the future. The program teaches students the fundamentals of safety and sanitation, equipment operation, and how to prepare short order and large quantity cooking meals.

“I have a passion for cooking,” he explained. “After graduation, I plan to attend the Niagara Falls Culinary Institute and eventually the Culinary Institute of America.”

Hamburg Student Helps Classroom Aide Find a Forever Friend

Anthony Walker, a student at Winchester Academy, has spent the last two years volunteering after school at the SPCA Serving Erie County, NY. Asked what motivates him to serve, Anthony reflected on his love for helping animals.

"I like walking the dogs and trying to find them homes," he said.

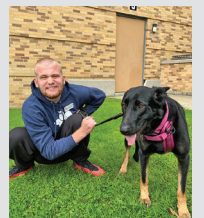

Recently, Anthony introduced his classroom aide, John Yetter, to Kai, a German Shepherd that was in need of a home. Yetter said he hadn't been looking for a dog after the loss of his dog Zeus.

"Anthony kept reminding me about the SPCA," Yetter said.

With Anthony's urging, Yetter went to the SPCA, where he met Kai and instantly fell in love.

"I'm excited for his family, and he keeps me updated on her," Anthony said.

Through his dedicated service and his love of animals, Anthony is making a positive impact in the lives of both the animals he loves as well as members of the school community.
